Tech Traditions To Be Enforced

Court of Traditions, Varsity Club to Act

After being somewhat neglected since the war, some of the more venerable school traditions are now going to be revived. From this date on, the following traditions will be observed:

1—The Senior bench and oak.

The bench is a privileged resting place for the weary senior bones—no one else.

2—Corduroys may not be worn by underclassmen.

3—Initiations shall be determined by the organization concerned but shall be supervised by the Court of Traditions.

4—A guard of honor shall be provided by the Freshman class for the Beaver to football games and other events where it is displayed.

5—Freshmen will clear off the T on the hill annually.

6—Freshmen will provide boxes for the annual Oxy rally and will guard the boxes two nights prior to the bonfire.

Court Members Named

In order to carry out these rules, a Court of Traditions has been organized consisting of the following men: Norm Lee, V. P. of ASCIT; Bob Pilling, prosecutor; Senior judge, Don Granicher; Junior judge, Frank Wolf; Sophomore judge, Dennis Long; Freshman judge, David Warren.

Trial Procedure Given

Violators of the above traditions will be brought before the court, the trial taking place within ten days. Defendants may furnish their own witnesses and defense counsel. Sentence is determined by a majority vote of the court. Punishments shall consist of constructive work around the campus, enforcement of these decrees being in the capable hands of the Varsity Club.

Frosh Elect Officers

Freshmen Class officers were elected last week:

Ralph Lovberg President

Bill Cox Vice-President

Bill Culbertson Secretary

Carl Fox Treasurer

Chuck Norman Athletic Mgr.

Bill Bradley Publicity Mgr.

Valentine Dances For Houses Tonight

Hearts Theme to Feature Formal, Sport Affairs

This is to be a week-end of hearts and flowers, according to opinionated forecast. All the houses save Fleming are having big Valentine's Day dances tonight.

Dabney is offering its members a shot at the Pasadena Athletic Club with all its garnishings; dinner served, and the bar open from 6:30 to 7:30. This promises to be one of the most hilarious blow-outs. The affair is semi-formal and corsages are in order.

Ricketts, Throop Combine

Ricketts and Throop are uniting efforts in a sport dance to be held in Dabney lounge. A very legitimate dance this, as much so as it can be with the bounce that "Roddy" Rodriguez boys will dish.

Blacker, staid and upstanding as usual, will have a semi-formal, too. No one knows yet what band will play. Corsages are called for here, too.

Fleming will restrict its efforts to an exchange with Orr House, Oxy. This is a second run for this set-up, so things should be well warmed up.

February 19 Last Day For Nominations

Students who wish to have their name on the ballot in the forthcoming ASCIT elections of March 7 should have a written nomination in the hands of any Board member by February 19. This is necessary so that the Board may investigate all nominees to determine their eligibility with regards to their scholarship average and number of terms in school.

All rules and regulations as to eligibility of candidates are contained in the LITTLE T.

City Officials Visit Institute

A group of 20 prominent city officials were guests of the Institute in an inspection tour of the campus and the jet propulsion labs last Monday, the purpose of which was to get first-hand information on Caltech space requirements.

Dr. Lee A. DuBridge, who had just returned from his third trip to New York this year, this time to be elected president of the American Physics Society and to attend a meeting of the Atomic Energy Committee, led the Institute reception panel. Following visits to the high potential lab, the 200-inch mirror, and other points of interest, the group lunched at the Athenaeum.

Big 6 Explain Problems

Representing the school were, besides Dr. DuBridge, Dean Franklin Thomas, Dr. Royal W. Sorenson, Prof. Robert L. Daugherty, Mr. Wesley Hertenstein, and Mr. George H. Hall.

The visitors included Mr. Harold Hines, City Manager; Mr. R. N. McCurdy, Assistant City Manager; Mr. W. A. Allen, Assistant to the City Manager; Mr. H. B. Noble, City Attorney; Mr. Clifford Kenworthy, of the Chamber of Commerce. Members of the City Planning Commission present were: Mr. C. Lewis Edwards, Chairman; Mr. Harrison Baker, Mr. Raymond Dorn, Mrs. Ray Gerhart, Mr. John Mutchler, Mr. Charles Seward, Mr. Joseph Sprankle, and Mr. Ted B. Adsit, Planning Director. Members of the City Board of Directors present were: Mr. R. E. Dawson, Chairman; Mr. C. C. Hamill, Vice Chairman; Mr. A. R. Benedict, Mr. M. S. Brenner, Mr. A. D. Stewart, Mr. C. G. Wopschall, Mr. J. S. Wilfong.

Popeno To Talk On Sociology of Sex

The YMCA winter forum will continue next Monday night as Dr. Paul Popeno returns for another interesting lecture on "The Sociology of Sex." The time and place will be the same as before—7:30 p.m. in 201 Bridge.

Dr. Popeno's last lecture on "The Psychology of Sex" was very well attended and proved to be both educational and interesting.

A large attendance is expected, so be on time to hear this extremely entertaining and capable lecturer.

C.E.S. Meets Wed. Gilbert To Speak

"Y" Drive Set For Next Week; Real Student Support Urged

Contributions to Be Made in Pledge Form; Ask $1500 from Campus Sources

The Caltech YMCA will launch its 1947 drive for funds next Monday, February 17, according to Jim Harder, general chairman.

Goal of the effort is the raising of Six Thousand Dollars, $1500 from sources on campus, to finance "Y" activities for the fiscal year.

The YMCA is the oldest student organization on the Institute campus; its first meeting was held 31 years ago, on Feb. 1, 1916. During its life here it has been responsible for many important contributions to student life.

Sponsored Frosh Camp

Back in 1919, the "Y" sponsored an "evening get-together" series for Freshmen. This developed into "Freshman Day," and finally Frosh Camp.

Also in '19 there appeared on campus a set of loose-leaf sheets suitable for notebooks, known as the "Freshman Handbook." This publication became the "Little T," published for 16 years by the "Y".

Other services inaugurated and sustained by the YMCA range from forums, "bull-sessions," the Frosh Luncheon Club and the Atomic Control Group to the lost and found and counselling services, loans, and the Book Exchange.

Fifteen Caltech students attended this year's "Y"-sponsored intercollegiate conference at Asilomar.

Develops Productive Citizens

When Dean Strong, characterizing the "Y" as a "necessary part of the Institute," stressed that "through its luncheons, discussion groups, and forums, it brings to the students' attention some vital aspects of productive citizenship that cannot be included in the regular Institute program," he had in mind forums similar to last term's "Threats to Peace" and the series on "Psychology and Sex" now in progress.

On the basis of such multiform services and programs, the YMCA is certainly deserving of the wholehearted support of the entire student body. Students are being asked to furnish only a fourth of the year's Budget—friends and alumni will contribute the rest.

Drive Ends Friday

Co-chairman of the drive with Harder are: Jack Ottestad, Publicity; Bob Crichton, Treasurer; Bill Muehlberger, Houses; Wyn Hodges, Off Campus; Dick Alexander and Burt Crumly, Faculty; and Dave Metzler, Grads.

The drive will close Feb. 21. Students are urged to consider now how large a part they wish to have in maintaining the "Y" this year, and get their pledges in early in the drive.

Gutenberg Lectures Tonite on Hurricanes

Dr. Beno Gutenberg, Professor of Geophysics, will speak on "Hurricanes and Microseisms" at the Friday evening demonstration lecture series here at Caltech tonight in Room 201 Bridge at 7:30 p.m. The lecture will be open to the public.

Dr. Gutenberg, recently named chief of the Caltech Seismological Laboratory, will cover in his talk work which he has done with the Navy in locating hurricanes from small vibrations of the ground.

The Y.M.C.A. Gives To Us All Year

The YMCA has set $1,500 as the students' goal of its Finance Drive this year. This seems a relatively unambitious sum, when we consider that it represents a contribution of only about a dollar from each member of the student body.

A dollar—less than the price of a good dinner, about one-half that of a corsage, or one-fifteenth of our student dues for a year. Thus sum, or even twice as much, doesn't seem a great deal to ask for the big contribution the "Y" makes to the pleasure and welfare of Techmen.

During the last year we have seen the "Y" engaged in many really valuable services including the preparation and successful direction of Freshman Camp, freshman and upperclass luncheon meetings, the loan fund, forums featuring well-known speakers on vital topics, the book exchange, discussion meetings, counsellor service, etc., etc., etc.

A yearly contribution of about a dollar is very little to ask for so much. Don't let some vague prejudices interfere with your very safe investment in a multitude of YMCA services for the coming year.

Remember, Pledge and then pay
To the Y.M.C.A.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

Last week's Tech carried an article announcing the fact that several students from this school were joining in the anti-draft demonstrations being held throughout the country.

Have these men ever stopped to think what a position this country would be in today without its armed forces? It is true that we will never be able to obtain lasting peace by force alone, but there are many people in the world today that understand nothing but force and if we are to see our ideals carried out we must do something more about it than just propose them at the Council table.

Unfortunately, the world is not yet in the position that it can legislate peace into existence, and until it is in such a position we should maintain an Armed Force that is not solely dependent on enlistments.

—Bill Freed.

To the Editor:

I noticed in last week's California Tech the dramatic statement that some of our students are going to burn their draft cards in protest of peace-time conscription.

I think that this is fine and noble sentiment and I think that the boys that still lie on Iwo Jima and Saipan will join me in a vote of thanks to this noble organization.

If the last war has taught us nothing else, it should have at least shown what happens to countries who drop their guard.

Caltech Guide Service To Conduct Daily Tours

The newly-formed Caltech Guide Service, sponsored jointly by the Institute and the Beavers, is now conducting students and off-campus visitors through various departments and research projects.

To go on one of these tours, come to the YMCA office in Lower Dabney Monday through Saturday at 11, Monday through Friday at 3.

Among the interesting sights now being shown are the Institute greenhouses.

On the corner of San Pasqual and Michigan, Caltech biologists are growing plants as they would grow under desert conditions, along jungle coastlands, in Iowa, Oregon, and Italy. With the help of the only two air-conditioned greenhouses in this country used for scientific purposes, they have found, for example, that a night temperature of 60 degrees or better is needed for optimum tomato yield.

Musical . . . Baedeker

With the sad and untimely fold-up of the Woody Herman band, it is indeed fortunate that there is a band like the Stan Kenton outfit to hold the line in progressive jazz. At a time when interest in popular music is at an apparent decline, Stan manages to do very satisfactory business at the Avadon ballroom, attracting mobs of dancers and listeners at his nightly stints.

Kenton Is Progressive

Kenton's success lies in the fact that he has been presenting music that is way off the beaten track. The principal idea behind the band's musical presentation has been the desire to create a so-called jazz mood. This has been arrived at by the employment of new and unusual rhythmic concepts exemplified by selections such as ARTISTRY IN BOLERO, SAFRANSKI, and ARTISTRY IN PERCUSSION. The orchestra has been associated with "artistry in rhythm," and this artistry, far from being limited strictly to jazz presentations, has played an important role in bringing attention and popularity to Kenton's ballads and novelties.

Musical Background

Most of the orchestra's unbelievably complex arrangements are the works of an enthusiastic young arranger and composer, Pete Rugulo. Rugulo studied music under Darius Milhaud, contemporary French modernist, who himself is a student of American jazz. Realizing that the idea of superficiality of jazz was unfortunate if not unjustified, Rugulo set out to extract the mood of general excitement out of jazz and to combine it with more advanced forms of musical expression. In doing so, he actually helped to initiate a new type of music and may thus be compared to such composers as George Handy, Eddie Sauter, and, in a limited sense, Igor Stravinsky and other modernists.

Sidemen Top Stars

In spite of their complexities, however, Rugulo's arrangements cannot be played objectively the way a standard classical selection would be played. In order to be put over successfully, they must be performed by musicians who can actually feel the spirit behind them. Stan Kenton has been fortunate in finding such musicians, all excellent technicians capable of recreating the jazz mood in Rugulo's works.

"The Late George Apley" met with such great success playing to a packed house during the past week that it is being held over through Sunday, February 23. This is a comedy well worth seeing, as it is good back the world premiere of Tennessee Williams' "Stairs to the Roof," which will now open Wednesday, February 26.

Bertha Baffled

The Pasadena Playhouse has an interesting television display setup. There is a transmitter in the patio, with the receivers set up in the lobby of the theater. It is quite interesting, but two elderly ladies were quite disappointed in it. They stood in front of the transmitter then hurried into the lobby, after watching for several minutes and not seeing themselves on the screen, one turned to the other and said in a highly irritated voice, "Let's go on in, they're not going to show the pictures of us."

Early Week-End Shows

The Temple Theater at Rosemead and Las Tunas is starting a new policy of two complete shows on Friday and Saturday nights. The first show opens at 5:30 so you can go early and avoid the rush. This week-end "Margie," with Jeanne Crain and Alan Young, and "Dangerous Millions" head the bill. "Show-Off," with Red Skelton, and "Bad Bascomb" opens Sunday. —Lewis L. Grimm.

Varsity Baseball Starting Practice

Good Team Expected;
Many Positions Open

This week the baseball season begins in earnest as the Interhouse games get rolling and the varsity men, composed of those who have college baseball letters, begin practice. Coach Musselman should be getting quite used to starting fresh, because this year he again has the job of picking a team which undoubtedly will be much different from last year.

There are seven lettermen returning along with about 15 new men. Among the newcomers the brightest prospect appears to be Chuck Norman, who was good enough last year in high school to be picked as Southern California's on the boys' all-star game in Chicago.

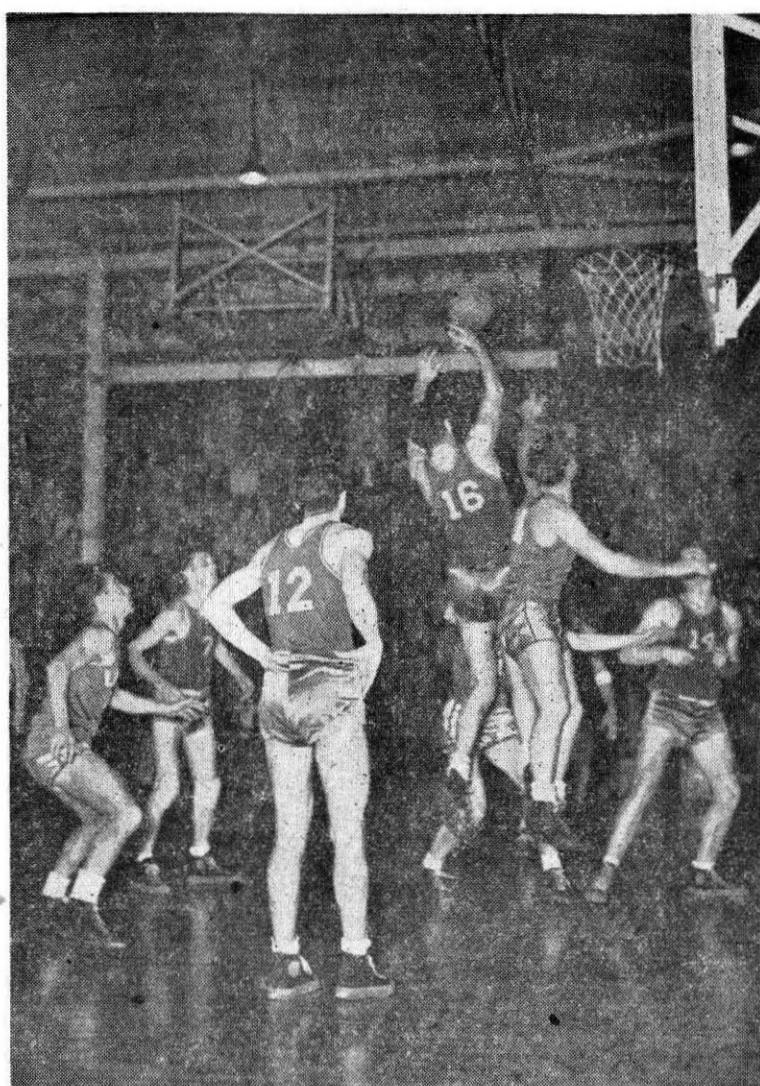

Musselman Has Problems

The biggest problems facing Musselman occur in the pitching and catching departments. Jack Smith, Patterson, Bill Muehlberger, or Tom Petrules may end up behind the plate, a wide open berth. The line-up of pitchers will include the two Hedricks, Macginnity, McDonald, Morrison and undoubtedly some others. As for the rest of the team it is anybody's guess as to who will play what position. Coach Musselman right now is wondering, to quote Abbott and Costello, "Who's on first?"

First Game Whittier

The team will have six or seven practice games before they play their first league game against Whittier the week after the spring vacation.

Although the Beavers are not exactly expected to top the league this year, the team ought to be in good shape and ready to go by the first league game. The only certain thing about baseball is uncertainty so we may yet field a topnotch team which could give the league a going over.

Baseball League Off To Fast Start

Fleming Is Still Team To Beat For The Title

This Week's Results
Fleming, 12; Ricketts, 1.
Dabney, 3; Throop, 2.
Blacker, 3; Fleming, 3 (tie.)

Pulling a surprise, Blacker House held the Fleming baseball nine to a 3-3 tie to drop them out of first place in the standings. In other games, Fleming waxed Ricketts, and Dabney squeezed by Throop to take an early lead in the standings.

In gaining the tie, Blacker exploded for all its runs in the first inning. But Fleming countered with one run in each of the 3 innings played, one of them being a single coupled with a three-base error.

Throop Came Close

Scoring one run in the first inning on a walk and a single, Dabney managed to hold on to its lead for the other two frames. However, with the score 3-1, in the last half of the third, Throop scored one run, and had the tying and winning runs on base, only to be unable to push them across.

In the league opener, Fleming breezed to a lop-sided 12-1 win over an apparently outclassed Ricketts team. The Rowdies held Fleming to a 2-1 lead going into the last half of the second, but the dikes opened and runs poured through. Two hits were all Fleming could get, but these were abetted by several walks, plus an untimely error or two. Fancy base running by Fleming also did the Ricketts cause no good.

Coming Attractions

Games next week see Ricketts try to show Dabney that first impressions are not always correct, while Fleming finishes its schedule with toughies against Throop and Dabney.

League Leading Poets Paste Beavers 69-36 In Varsity Cage Tilt

Powerful Whittier Quintet Shines in League Encounter

The poets of Whittier plainly displayed talents along lines other than poetry last Friday night by soundly drubbing a hopeful Beaver five 69-36 on the loser's hardwood. The Whittier boys didn't ooze talent, they flooded the court with it; against superior ball handling and a devastating fast break, the dazed Techmen found it hard to get control of the ball as an alert Whittier defense intercepted many passes. Moore, the Whittier center, accounted for 14 digits while the fast and tricky manipulation of the spheroid by Martin and Pederson, Poet afterwards, added 17 more.

Whittier Gets Hot

During the first ten minutes of the game, the Beavers held their own as the Whittier boys failed to find the hoop, but as the game progressed, the Poets adjusted their coordinates and began to hit the hoop with deadly precision.

Center Paul Saltman grabbed high-point honors, sinking 15 points for the Beaver cause. Although the Bowen-Saltman double post failed to be effective against the sharp Poet defense, forwards Ted Bowen and Don Furth netted five and six points respectively while Bill Cox and Harry Moore accounted for four points each from their guard positions.

High spot on last week's social calendar was the riotous Blacker-Dabney barn dance held at Mountain Oaks. The general conduct that evening prompted an anonymous S.C. coed to characterize Techmen as "the most ribald, alcoholic, lustful, extroverted, and thoroughly agreeable gang of males I've ever met." My, and we have always prided ourselves on our sober intellects.

Miss Tech

Belle of the evening was winner of the beauty contest, lovely, glamorous (she's engaged, she uses Pond's), "Carlita" Navarro. Chosen by judge "Chuck" Auerbach, who directed the contest with magnificent aplomb, "Carlita" was unanimously acclaimed to have the shapeliest gams, the most angelic face, and the most voluptuous body of all those present.

The Dabney team forged ahead to win the "crew race" in an average time of 8.6 sec., after one of the Blacker guzzlers poured his beer down the wrong pipe.—Rex Stewart's drag, a provocative little number by the name of Doris, roused something more than a casual interest among the boys.—Lang (Watch out, girls) Hedrick is engaged now and had to content himself with wolfing on Navarro's and Muelberger's women.—Don Royce turned a neat Class A flamer.—Dave Douglas was in rare condition.

Wild Man

Dave Baron's attire and demeanor combined to give him a terrifying aspect. He scared hell out of my date.—Dave Caldwell finally arrived on the scene about 11 o'clock with a very enticing diminutive creature. Car trouble, he said.—Bob Krueger says "Things are tough all over." Why?—Tom Davis, Blacker's esteemed RA was on hand in a big way with a lovely and charming little lady named Caroline.

Fun in the Snow

Fleming's excursion to Snow Valley provided spills and chills and a rollicking good time for all concerned. Honnald's gal, Mary Stansbury, proved herself the equal of any man in driving a 2-ton truck from Claremont to San Berdoo.—Dean Johnson kept everybody happy mixing hot-buttered rums, while Bill Boutelle proved his ability as a chef and served up some fine sizzling steaks.—What things I couldn't print in here if some people weren't so darn sensitive!
